RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On February 26, 2020, Phyllis Doyle filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she received an influenza (“flu”) vaccine in her right deltoid on November 17, 2018, and subsequently suffered from brachial neuritis.³ Petition at 1, 7. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On January 4, 2021, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report at

² National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755. Hereinafter, for ease of citation, all “§” references to the Vaccine Act will be to the pertinent subparagraph of 42 U.S.C. § 300aa (2012).

³ Although Respondent concedes that Petitioner suffered a SIRVA as a result of the November 17, 2018 flu vaccine, Petitioner did not allege this injury in her petition. Petitioner is ordered to file an amended petition to cure this deficiency.

1. Specifically, it is Respondent's position that Petitioner has satisfied the criteria set forth in the revised Vaccine Injury Table and the Qualifications and Aids to Interpretation, which afford a petitioner a presumption of causation if onset of SIRVA occurs within forty-eight hours after receipt of a seasonal flu vaccination and there is no apparent alternative cause. Id. at 4. Respondent further agrees that Petitioner has experienced the residual effects of her SIRVA for more than six months. Id.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
